Medical Report

On August 12, 2022, at 7:45pm, Mateo Gomez, a 28-year-old-man, was admitted to Contoso General Hospital ICU in Los Angeles, California after suffering a car accident while driving near his home located on Hollywood Boulevard. The patient showed signs of chest trauma and difficulty breathing, indicating possible rib fracture. A chest CT scan and AP x-ray were performed to determine damage to

1. ribs
2. lungs

Results showed a pseudoaneurysm of the thoracic aorta with minor fractures to the first and third right ribs. The patient remained in the ICU where treatment was initiated. A stent was surgically placed to stabilize hemorrhaging until blood oxygen levels reached 95 percent. The patient was discharged on September 1, 2022, under the supervision of his caretaker, Nickolaus Schulz, passport number: B12345678.
